

Notice of Summary Plan Information for the National Electrical Benefit Fund (NEBF)

Pursuant to Section 104(d) of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA), the NEBF provides the following summary of information contained in the NEBF's latest Annual Report/Form 5500 for the 2018 plan year:

1. Contribution Schedules and Benefit Formulas – The required contributions to the NEBF are based upon three percent (3%) of a covered employee's gross labor payroll, and the benefits for participants retiring in 2018 were generally based upon $32.00 per month for each benefit service credit earned. This rate, however, may be reduced through an early retirement, a break in service, a joint and survivor annuity benefit or similar plan feature. There were no modifications to the contribution schedule or the benefit formulas in 2018.

Please note that, per the Form 5500 Schedule R Instructions, these figures include participants for whom no contributions were received during the relevant plan year and whose last contributing employer had stopped contributing to the plan by the beginning of the relevant plan year. Employers stop contributing to the plan for a number of reasons, only one of which is the type of withdrawal that could result in withdrawal liability.

6. Number of Employers Who Withdrew During the Preceding Plan Year and the Aggregate Withdrawal Liability – 565 employers stopped contributing to the NEBF in 2017. As noted above, employers stop contributing to the NEBF for a number of reasons, only one of which is the type of withdrawal that could result in withdrawal liability. Of the 565 employers who stopped contributing to the Plan in 2017, at this time, NEBF is not aware of any that qualify under the definition of withdrawal applicable to the Plan. To date, NEBF has identified twenty-five employers that qualify under the definition of withdrawal applicable to the Plan. The aggregate amount of withdrawal liability assessed against such withdrawn employers is $3,451,852.
